

Redevelopment Plan Cutback Seen

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Appeals by residents to opposition from residents living inside the designated redevelopment project area near the Bay Area Rapid Transit station, the Daly City City Council indicated Monday it will attempt to rebuild only commercial properties along Mission Street and Junipero Serra Blvd. as a means of revitalizing the once prosperous commercial areas.

There had been some discussion among councilmen last month, in the wake of a heated exchange between members of the Original Daly City Protective Association and council, that the entire issue of redevelopment in the city might be dropped.

Subsequent to this, a survey conducted by the Mission Merchants Association disclosed many of that organization's membership favored redevelopment along Mission Street and Junipero Serra Blvd. as a means of revitalizing the once prosperous commercial areas.

Last week, city manager David Rowe had informed the council and audience attending the council session at City Hall that he would have a definite determination on which way the city should go by Nov. 26.

Monday night, Mayor Anthony Giannonna asked for "thinking on this vital matter."

Rowe said the city's engineering department had only that day turned over to the council's acceptance of the project area last September. Both officials were out of town on the time.

"The earlier we discuss this matter the better off we are on the subject," Rowe told the council.

Councilman Bernard J. Lycett kicked off the discussion by noting "We have been accused of sticking this under the carpet. If we procrastinate at this time, it would be a valid accusation."

Because of legal technicalities, Lycett and fellow councilman McRobert Stewart were not able to vote on the project area last September. Both officials were out of town on the time.

Since then, the council has disclosed some misgivings on the subject — especially in the face of mounting criticism from property owners in the area.

It was Lycett who first brought up the subject of redefining the project boundaries Monday to exclude residential neighborhoods and include only those commercial areas in the eastern section of the city.

Councilmen McRobert Stewart and Victor Kyriakis, along with mayor Giannonna, supported the idea.

Lycett said the project area would include the San Francisco County line, Junipero Serra Freeway, San Bruno Mountain foothills and south to Vista Grande Ave. was a first thought to be best suited for redevelopment.

"We have had an awful lot of dissatisfaction (displayed) with this proposal," Lycett said. "I'm kind of sending to the will of the people even if it is against my better judgement."

On the other hand merchants in the city have shown they are interested in the project, councilman Stewart said.

Stewart said the Redevelopment Agency, which is, in fact, the City Council, "must show a little flexibility" and in the past the agency "had failed to show this flexibility."

Hopefully, the commercial redevelopment will be a "showcase" project and will create new jobs, Stewart said.

It was agreed that in the absence of total community support, redevelopment in the city was destined to fail.

This failure was blamed on "poor communications with the citizens," Kyriakis said.

In supporting the decision to divert attention away from redevelopment of residential areas, Kyriakis pointed out that the ODCPA's consultant, John Denton, informed the Mission Merchants Association membership at a meeting some time ago that the residential areas should not be redeveloped. Instead, attention should be given to commercial areas along Mission Street, according to Kyriakis.

Denton reportedly said Mission Street could be developed into a "European type" shopping street in an effort to revitalize business there.

I realize there might be some homes affected by this redevelopment (of commercial streets) but this number

Funding for BART Parking Is Imminent

Funding of $3.5 million multi-level parking garage capable of doubling the present number of vehicles able to park at the Daly City Bay Area Rapid Transit stations is imminent the Post has learned.

Mike Bernard, Director of Research for BART, said all that is needed to get federal funds to start building the garage is approval of the State agency concerned with such matters.

For some four years BART and Daly City officials have been trying to get federal funds, provided under the Transportation Act of 1969 specifically for construction of freeway fringe parking lots.

Councilman Bernard Lycett, former mayor of Daly City, travelled to San Diego to plead the plight of the city before the State Highway Commission, pointing up the traffic tangle that would result from BART in his city unless additional parking was provided commuters to BART, and Daly City entered into a basic agreement concerning location of the station and the transit district's responsibility in paving for improvements along De Long Street, Kinnear Street and traffic flow around the station.

Original design of the Daly City facility was for an elevated station with some 500 parking spaces.

Three more times as many years to appear before the State Highway Department.

Meanwhile, BART pushed for approval of the funds, supporting the city in its contention that overflow BART commuter traffic would drain residential streets with its parking needs.

In 1969, BART and Daly City entered into a basic agreement concerning location of the station and the transit district's responsibility in paving for improvements along De Long Street, Kinnear Street and traffic flow around the station.

The city has now nearly completed the improvements along Knowles Avenue between Mission Street and De Long to handle the car crush sparked by the opening of BART.

Daly City dipped into its General Fund and came up with the necessary 10 percent of the total garage cost — some $300,000.

This money was later put back into the city's general fund, after receipt of federal TOPICS funds, City Mgr. David Rowe explained.

The city is now nearing completion of improvements along Knowles Avenue between Mission Street and De Long to handle the car crush sparked by the opening of BART.

To date, some city officials point out, BART has put up "one cent" for additional parking fees, which, these same officials agree, will benefit the transit district by making it more convenient for riders.

The question of charging commuters to park at the Daly City station was raised by one San Francisco supervisor, a member of BART's Administration Committee, last week.

Supervisor Question Kopp suggested a $1 fee be charged for Daly City parking.

Local city officials and businessmen feel such a charge would cause some people to park on city streets, while others would simply not use BART.

Rowe feels that a "reasonable fee" might be charged someday, but only if Daly City, which put up the ante for the garage to receive federal funds, shares its revenue.

Not only is the dress and mannerisms of the BART police officers and their schedules are like hazard and out of the ordinary.

Such revenues realized from parking fees would be used by the city for traffic control.

Daly City, in a series of meetings, hammered out an agreement with BART to increase parking to some 850 spaces and, if Daly City participated in the funding of additional spaces, the transit district was agreeable to adopting a "no fee" policy in the parking garage.

In October, 1972, the final agreement was signed by BART and Daly City. It provided for free parking unless both parties consented to a charge.

They don't look like any patrol officers have been accustomed to seeing patrolling the streets.

If you talk to them, they don't even sound like law enforcement officers — more like information clerks.

But their record of arrests and stops in the Bay Area Rapid Transit system's 70 odd miles of track in three counties is testimony to their value in protecting public and property from criminal elements.

Some BART police ride around in powder blue patrol cars.

Others ride the trains.

And at least two BART officers ride the San Francisco-Daly City line accompanied by two specially-trained dogs.

BART's hand-picked law enforcement team now consists of 100 members — patrolmen and supervisory personnel. All are trained in the latest police techniques.

Not only is the dress and mannerisms of the BART police officers and their schedules are like hazard and out of the ordinary.

trying to figure out where to go and what to do.

Wearing blue blazers, turn-sleeved shirts and dark blue slacks, the BART policeman looks like any other commuter on one of the system's sleek silver trains.

His (or her) only identity is in an insignia and name pinned over the left chest pocket.

Like the trains they ride, the communications setup that keeps them in contact with one another is out of the future.

The walkie-talkies are designed to operate anywhere — underground, under the bay, in an airplane or inside any of the far-flung stations and terminals.

BART's police are surprised at the lack of crime on the Daly City-San Francisco run.

Although most police think "it's just too early to tell," they agree they are pleasantly surprised at the absence of hard crimes on their trains.

About a dozen arrests have been made since the Daly City station opened on Nov. 5.

Most of these were for picking pockets, drunkenness and narcotics — usually marijuana smoked inside stations.

The two BART dogs — designed BART dog "U" and BART dog "Z" by the district — have thus far ridden the trains daily with their handlers and appear to be accepted by the public.

Some riders good naturedly pat the Dobermanns on the head. Others steer clear of BART's canine corps.

Most citizens know that either dog could bury them faster than a bomb if they were ordered to do so by their handlers.

The mere presence of the dogs is felt to be a deterrent to crime on trains and inside stations. BART police feel.

The district plans to get five more dogs in the near future.

Watch Those Yule Frauds

Giving is in the true Spirit of Christmas, but there are persons who know the holidays are a time to be taken advantage of.

At the time of the year, bunco artists — confidence gurus — practically come out of the woodwork.

Everyone is a potential victim to these crooks, according to Daly City police Captain David Bastedo.

Bastedo, a 20-year veteran of the department, has worked on numerous bunco schemes in the county.

He thinks these frauds are "the most evil because they victimize older people those who can least afford to lose them."

Taking to the Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce last week, Bastedo and police Captain David Hansen noted that all those attending the luncheon were potential victims.

What makes confidence frauds, such as the "pigpen" scheme and bank frauds, successful is that the victims were some half million dollars was milked from victims in 172 reported cases.

"Everyone has a little greed or dishonesty in their nature," Bastedo replied.

"It's a natural part of man to want to get ahead," Bastedo replied.

If a person can get a person to show his greed will succeed in his swindle," Bastedo said.

While the bunco artist and his intended victim wait outside an office building the "finder" goes in to see her.

does are everyone doesn't report them.

"In many cases, they are never exposed," Bastedo said.

"In other instances, even if they recognize the person who stole their money, they are too ashamed to point him out."

Shoplifting while still a major headache for police at this time of year, is taken a back seat to the bunco artist, police feel.

Daly City police arrested three teams of "Pigeon drop" artists working local shopping centers for this year.

Most of the suspects — mostly women — were arrested for similar crimes in other parts of the state.

Bastedo explained that in some cases a nice looking, sometimes pregnant woman, will approach an elderly person and say, "Come on, come on." Bastedo claims they are the most vulnerable to such schemes and engage them in conversation.

Soon, a friend of the woman excitedly rushes up and informs her accomplice, the "pigpen," she has found an envelope with a large sum of money in the parking lot.

While the bunco artist and his intended victim wait outside an office building the "finder" goes in to see her.

Jeff District Curriculum Expansion Seen

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District are examining closely 1974-75 budget priorities particularly curriculum expansion and the increased use of paraprofessionals.

At a study session Nov. 13, trustees made clear their desire to better serve student needs regarding curriculum and recognized the importance of a visible alternative education program to keep youngsters interested in school.

Area trustees expressed special interest in the district vocational education program and the bi-lingual, bi-cultural program which are dependent on federal and state funding.

Assistant Superintendent of Instruction Ernest Ribera told trustees funding for the special programs would probably continue at the same rate next year as it is this year. He said he has been advised of federal and state funding will remain steady, but cautioned trustees to recognize that funding is subject to change at any time.

Ribera, however, assured board members that even if funds were curtailed the vocational and bi-lingual, bicultural programs would continue. The district personnel coordinator would most likely have to be eliminated.

Trustee John Sloane asked if there is a demand for expansion of the bi-lingual program, and Ribera replied there is a need for another language, specifically for Filipinos, "but this would be a new money."

Ribera explained that presently the district is not conducting an "intensive search" for outside revenue to expand curriculum including special programs. He said the district could use additional funds, but lacked the personnel to contact funding agencies.

This spurred much board discussion, and trustees ultimately agreed that the district should consider hiring an administrator or contracting with an outside consultant to search for funds in addition to helping with curriculum planning and developing opportunity.

"If we are talking about obtaining outside revenue then we are automatically talking about more personnel," declared District Superintendent Ed Morgan. "If we don't have the personnel, then we can forget the funding."

There are other districts which employ an administrator solely to search for funding. They fly to Sacramento and Washington, D.C. and personally contact funding agencies. This, I think, is what we need, to expand our curriculum," he said.

Morgan, however, warned trustees that the hiring of another administrator would bring objections from the Certified Employees Council.

In turning to the immediate need for additional paraprofessionals, Morgan told trustees that he had recently talked with several district principals who had expressed concern for the lack of classroom aides and particularly supervisors. He said that principals and faculty members have become increasingly worried over student delinquency.

"While touring one of the schools recently, I talked with a psychologist who told me that we have many problem children in our district," said Morgan. "The schools are experiencing more and more difficulties with kids' attitudes, and we'd better address ourselves to this problem."

Morgan said three high schools have asked for additional paraprofessional supervisors to monitor recreation areas and bathrooms and also help with counseling.

Although last night's meeting was called to discuss budget priorities for the next school year, trustees agreed that the need for supervisors and paraprofessionals was more immediate, said Morgan.

President Jane Powell suggested the district not wait until next year to hire supervisors, but use their undistributed reserves to employ personnel needed to maintain school year at the district schools.

Pacifica Funds Are Voted

Pacifica councilmen have voted five more expenditures from Federal Revenue Sharing funds.

The city expects to receive $193,000 annually in such funds.

The council has now voted to buy a beach cleaner for $30,000; Clerk Creek Park, $30,000; fish ladder for the San Pedro Creek, $10,000; $4,000; bicycle trails, $6,000; and tree planting for streets and open space, $21,000. The city now has $86,000, and expects three more annual payments.

The councilmen have allocated $100,000 each for Sharp Park Beach parking facilities and a corporation yard, and $35,000 for a microfilm program.

One item in a priority list adopted on Oct. 17 meanwhile has been left in abeyance — $15,000 for further improvement of Frontier Park.

Councilmen will meet Dec. 5, 7:30 p.m. to act on what to do with millions of dollars.

Mayor Aubrey Lumley would like to see the $150,000 go to a covered swimming pool at Oceanica High School. Councilmen will meet with Jefferson Union High School District trustees Dec. 12 at which that project, as well as others, may be discussed.

Councilman Stan Farber has expressed concern with the Sharp Park Beach parking project which appeared last weekend when the new fishing pier opened.

Farber is running for sheriff of San Mateo County. The near-certainty that there will be at least one non-incumbent post already is creating interest in the race.

The other two incumbents have not announced their intentions.

Farber hinted he would be running again, at the last council meeting, he urged councilmen to state their views clearly on interpretation of the Hillside Preservation Ordinance, and "let the chips fall where they may. If we are beaten for re-election, so be it," he said.

Halverson, who was appointed to fill Nick Gust's seat, is expected to seek re-election.

Jacobsen asked the council Monday night if the city's nepotism ordinance would keep her from serving on the council. Her son, John, has been a park department employee for five years, but she felt that should not affect her work on the council. Her attorney John Sherman was asked to provide an opinion.

City Council Candidate Speculation Voiced

By JACK BIK

With city elections possibly advanced a month, talk already is circling around Pacifica as it who will run for Pacifica City Council.

Names mentioned at last week's meeting of the Pacifica City Council include Clerk Creek Park, the Pacifica Neighborhood Owners Association, Kitty Bouly Wilson, pioneer resident of Pedro Point, and Janice Fulford, a leader in the successful fight to defeat Measure D, the Rockaway Highlands rezoning.

In addition, terms for three city councilmen, Stan Farber, Harland Minshaw and Don Halverson, will be ending.

Minshaw is running for sheriff of San Mateo County.

DC Curbs Energy For Yule

THIS AWARD-WINNING display in Daly City last year may be a thing of the past — at least until the energy crisis is over. Most homeowner's groups have cancelled decoration contests this year.

'Speedway' Curbs for Daly City Ordered

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Drivers on South Mayfair Ave. in Daly City, referred to by some residents as the "Indianapolis Speedway," will soon get the checkered flag.

Stop signs will be installed at two corners — South Mayfair Avenue and Fairway Drive, and South Mayfair and Forest Grove — in an effort to slow down motorists.

In each case, the traffic signs will be installed on three corners.

Last month, homeowners in the 100 block of South Mayfair, which runs parallel with Alemany Boulevard, petitioned the City Council to improve lighting along the street, divert traffic to main thoroughfares and to repair cracks and curbs on the street.

They feared for the safety of persons walking between the Bay Area Rapid Transit Station and Alemany, and the meeting area after dark, pointing out present street lights were not bright enough.

Last week, City Mgr. David Rowe said new type street lights would be installed within two months.

Roots from trees growing along a green belt between Alemany and South Mayfair have begun uprooting the roadbed. The city is expected to go to bid to cut these roots and repair the road surface soon.

Some cars had been thrown off course by upheavals in the roadway caused by the roots pushing to the surface.

Louis Giannini, spokesman for the homeowners group, explained both pedestrian and motor traffic had increased in the area since the opening of BART, officials said.

Another resident, Alan McCloud, of the South Mayfair, was the victim of an accident last year.

He said driving in and out of his driveway was almost impossible because of cars that tailgate and try to pass him as he negotiates the turn.

He strongly urged stop signs be put in to discourage drivers from using the residential street as an alternate to Alemany.

Impatient drivers not only tailgate but honk horns when motorists obey the 25-mile-per-hour speed limit, slow to turn into driveways, was another complaint voiced at the session.

The council moved to have the city immediately install the stop signs, post additional signs, hire a traffic officer, assign traffic police to the area and forbid making a right hand turn from Park Plaza Drive onto South Mayfair.

Those enjoying the day with Mrs. Moran were the following club scouts: Paul Abrahamson, Jim Franklin, Mark Goodman, Carsten Jones, David Moran and Donald Reich.

A survey will be made by the city, it was learned.

"When the lights go on again, all over the world," was the title of a popular song that could well apply here.

Unless the experts find some solution to the current energy crises plaguing the nation, the song may again make the pop record hit parade.

With Christmas slightly more than a month away, Daly City has already mapped plans to cut back on the use of lights inside and outside of its facilities.

The usual "Christmas Tree" on Reservoir Hill in the eastern section of the city, a symbol for the past dozen years to motorists travelling along the Junipero Serra Freeway, will not be lit this year.

City Mgr. David Rowe has directed his staff to not use illuminated holiday ornaments either inside or outside City Hall and other public buildings in an effort to conserve energy.

Rowe's directive may be a precursor to the use of electric lights on roadside displays throughout the city — perhaps the entire county.

Quick on the heels of Rowe's disclosure, directors of the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association announced the annual Christmas home decorations contest — held for the past decade — was cancelled this year, also as a means to conserve energy.

It was expected other homeowner's groups would follow suit.

City officials, however, did have some reassuring news for children. That is, Santa Claus shouldn't have any difficulties finding their home. He has been delivering goods to children (and adults) long before the light bulb was invented.

Western Musical Presented

Fernando Rivera P-TA presented a Western Musical melodrama, "Babylonia," recently.

The play was performed by Mrs. Berdine Jernigan's musical drama class for a crowd of 200 people who were also served cake and coffee.

Rowe's directive may be a precursor to the use of electric lights on roadside displays throughout the city — perhaps the entire county.

They were ably assisted by a chorister and guitars.

Different Views of Nation's Fuel Crisis

The Moderator (M), in a modest and modish manner has summarized the evening's topic. Immoderately, the voice of a modern moderator. He introduces those with him.

C. From Congress, craves conservative causes. Senator L is a liberal, leaning left. B is from business, and E is an environmentalist and ecologist.

M. And now to our evening's discussion, the fuel crisis. What is our situation?

B. (Profoundly) We are short of oil. Short by 15 to 25 per cent of our present needs.

L. We are short only in the make-believe world of B and his dreams.

H. I'm bored with that argument.

C. In the long short run, we are short by no more than 5 per cent.

E. Five years ago my organization predicted the shortage.

B. And four, three, two, and one years ago we had one more year.

L. You caused it, with your ads for power movers, power tooth brushes and electric card dealers.

B. These things and others are an integral part of the American way of life. Wait until you can't use them.

L. When the toothbrushes go off all over the world?

B. Much more than that — you, your oven, your furnace. You fools brought this on yourselves!

M. (Moderately) Here! Here!

JOSEPH AGUILAR

Airman Joseph L. Aguilar, son of Mrs. Margarita Aguilar of 2905 Burden Way, South San Francisco, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs, and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

Airman Aguilar is a 1973 graduate of South San Francisco High School. His winter father, Lawrence Aguilar, resides at 315 Anita Drive, Millbrae.

B. You hear, E here and his organization stopped the Alaskan pipeline for over an answer.

C. Broken caribou legs? E. Broken caribou legs? In 1970, Congress passed a law that said no pipeline could occupy a right of way that was over 50 feet in width in addition to the width of the pipe. All we did was to have the court declare that 50 feet is 50 feet. The court's people decided that.

B. Damn foolishness. Dams.

L. You and your dams, wells, and reactors have brought us all to grief.

E. Senator L made a speech on the floor against the pipeline. And, C. I have brought with me a copy of your speech.

C. In the long short run, we are short by no more than 5 per cent.

E. What lies ahead?

C. Americans will always rise to a challenge. In a spirit of friendly self-sacrifice we can meet the whole thing without trouble.

E. Just this morning my wife or I should have our panel is most appreciated.

A VOICE. More heat than light.

Strange Response To TN Activities

Drama productions have been publicized all around Terra Nova's campus recently. They were "The Other Half Lives," an amateur off-campus production; "Improvisation, Inc." a semi-professional troupe; and "Don't Drink the Water," an official TN student production.

Audience response has varied during each production. How the other half lives, was the title of Terra Nova's Anna Lisa Fields, Jim Hursh, Mike Forman, Pearson and Carolyn Spinoza, was shown at the Asylum Theater Oct. 2, 3, 9, 10, 26 and 27. The effort of publicity for this production was done in such a manner so that one might expect more than 10 people at the show.

Miss Fields said of the small turnout, "I wish more people would have come. It was a good play."

Yet, another production called, "Improvisation, Inc." sponsored by Terra Nova's Executive Board, had an overwhelming response. The turnout at the school cafeteria could only be described as "over-the-top."

"Don't Drink the Water," a Woody Allen comedy, featuring a cast of 27, was performed Nov. 15, 16 and 17, in TN's cafeteria.

All performances were sold out.

GIRL SCOUTING

JOAN STEWART, site chairman of Twin Canyons with her husband Fred, and leader of Daly City Girl Scout troop 776, recently took her troop to this Bay Area camping site.

Kim Battistoni, Lisa Bolton, Debbie Burke, Debbie Fine, Dorene Fratto, Anna Maria Gonzales, Lynette Nielsen, Fran Jacobs, Patty Revello, Carla Russo and Vicki Sargent used vagabond stoves.

Annette Steeg, Jennifer Sturdivant, Lisa Sullivan, Chrissy Ulukou, Roxanne Whelan, Cathy White and Sandy Williams earned credits towards several camping and arts badges.

SWIMMING for Juniors has been postponed because of the Thanksgiving holiday. To Nov. 28 as Louise Anderson, Helen Rogers, Kriss Dale, Debbie Winters, Jane Stewart, Sharon Pardini, Carlene Menn and Darice Robinson participated.

These Senior Scout lifeguards are supervised by Mrs. Bumie Pardini for the swimming program, every Thursday night from 7 to 9 p.m. at Jefferson High School with open troop swimming the first Thursday of the month (reservations through Mrs. S. Anderson and Brownies swimming the third Thursday). Juniors the fourth Thursday and Cadettes and Seniors the second Thursday.

REDEDICATION ceremonies of Junior troop 2855 at Hope Lutheran Church were held on Oct. 21. Barbara Terra, Terri Brandt, Francis Castellon, Cristi Catelli, Virginia Chaiapari and Diane Christen.

Elizabeth Christen, Christy Dowd, Tracy Hall, Linda Hertogs, Marilyn LeBlanc, Marlene Mazzoni, Dorothy McRae, Linda and Jennifer Rivera served home-made cookies to their parents and friends.

CALENDARS may still be purchased for $1 each from local scouts or by mail from the Brisbane Scout office, 58 Cypress Lane, with your return address, according to local chairwoman Mrs. John Holzance.

OUR LADY OF MERCY was the setting for the rededication ceremonies of Mrs. Richard and Mrs. John Morris on Oct. 18, as Susan Barrett, Mary Courtney, Stacy Gallagher and Eileen Kohlmann pledged to Scouting.

BART Exhibit at CSM Library

A new exhibit marking the arrival of BART in San Mateo will be at the museum of the San Mateo County Historical Association on the campus of the College of San Mateo.

Housed in the Stanger Gallery, the exhibit features a large model of the Daly City BART station, photographs of the original construction sites with the humorous touch provided by doggerel slogans in the Burma Shave tradition.

Leslie O. Merrill, executive director, has announced the awarding of Merit of Merit to two local groups. Given annually since 1944 to individuals and agencies showing superior achievement and quality in history related endeavors, the awards are given after examination of distinguished histories representing the American Association for State and Local History.

The Award of Merit will be presented to Deane and Deane, Inc. at a ceremony preceding the Hall of Fame induction meeting, Nov. 28 at the library. The award is in recognition of the company's outstanding support and involvement with the local history projects of the John Muir National Historic Site, the Main Street Beautification, the Spanish Town Historical Society, and the reception following the presentation. Merrill, the chairman of the California awards committee, will represent the national association.

The Fort Point Museum Association at the Presidio in San Francisco was awarded the only other California award. Mr. George Dean of Hillsborough has specifically requested restoration of which has not been incorporated into the national park system.

The museum is open each

The preview look at the Mary's Help Hospital Guild's Christmas Boutique was so tempting it seems hard to believe that all those lovely bargains won't be snapped up immediately. However, the boutique committee insists that enough gifts, candies, cakes and holiday decorations have been made to keep the boutique in operation until the end of the month.

Parents are anticipating difficulties in selecting gifts for those hard to please people on your list, drawn by the boutique which has been set up on the second floor of Mary's Help Hospital. Shoppers will be well pleased to find many one-of-a-kind gifts for birthday or holiday giving, elegant decorations for home, table or packages and "sweets" to tempt the most determined dieter!

THE HOLIDAYS are party time and many a hostess is busy trying to decide between a buffet dinner for her entertaining or an elaborate cocktail party. However complicated her planning and preparations may seem to our hypothetical hosts, they would be small in comparison to the party preparations being carried on by the members of the Holy Angels Latin Club.

Mrs. Gina Gonzales, spokeswoman for the club, reports that plans are in the works for a minimum of 300 guests at the annual Latin Club Christmas party for the children of Colma and Daly City. The party will be held in the parish hall of Holy Angels in Colma.

Boys and girls between the ages of 2 and 11 years of age are invited to attend the Dec. 15 event and share in the festivities, enjoy the hamburgers and soft drinks provided by MacDonald's in Day City, and receive a gift and a chance to scramble for the goodies when the piñata breaks.

This is the type of undertaking that requires public support and cooperation. Help is gratefully accepted by the Latin Club Christmas party committee. To date the employees of the Emporium-Capwell Corporation have pledged some new toys. MacDonald's has promised food. Lee Lane of the Red Shoe School of Dance has donated entertainment and members of the Officers' All Program have volunteered to help with the social aspects.

WHAT IS still needed, desperately, are more gifts. Anyone wishing to donate a present for a child between the ages of 2 and 11 is invited to wrap the gift, tag it with the age and sex of the child it is intended for, and drop the donation off at the Holy Angels rectory on San Pedro Road, between Highway 280 and Mission Street.

Anyone wishing more information about the party or wishing to learn more about ways to help should call Mrs. Gonzales, 992-3591, or Mrs. Beatriz Zamudio, 992-5979.

FRIDAY afternoon is the date selected for A Day at the Races sponsored by the Balboa High School Alumni Association.

The thoroughbred races at Bay Meadows will begin at 1 p.m. and ticket holders will be on hand earlier to enjoy the buffet luncheon at the Turf Club.

Tickets for the benefit are being sold for $7 per person. That price will include admission, luncheon and reserved seating on the Turf Club Terrace.

For information about this event, which is open to alumni members, spouses, dates, family or friends of the school, call 586-5213, and speak with Catherine Porter.

ALL THE REPORTS have been submitted and the guests have all passed judgment and the consensus is that this year's fashion show and luncheon, Seasonal Silhouette, sponsored by the Mercury Guild, was an exceedingly successful undertaking.

Mrs. Lee McCarthy was the over-all chairman of the show which featured fashions from Macy's worn by some of the girls' lovely members.

Including on the list of models were Mrs. Peter Boffoli, Mrs. William Callahan, Mrs. H. Robert Havens, Mrs. Jack LaRocca, Mrs. Sean McMullan, Mrs. Maurice Trestonman, Mrs. Donald VonTricht, Mrs. John Wallace, Mrs. Anthony Zidich, and Mrs. Zora Connolly. Teen models were Nancy Goebel, Gayle Forner, Conna McCarthy and Lois McInerney.

MIR. AND MRS. Frank Murphy panned from Honolulu that were celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary in the islands.

The talented distaff member of that union was awarded the second prize, a silver bowl with the crest of the S.S. Mariposa, in the ship board flower arranging contest.

Members of the Daly Area of the Girl Scout Association remind you that now is the time to purchase your Girl Scout calendar.

Scout has just arrived and, as usual, it is lovely to look at and very useful to use in kitchen or den. Any girl who is a member of any of the Girl Scout units will be able to sell one of these calendars for only $1.

A VERY HAPPY Thanksgiving Holiday to you and a special word of thanks to all the publicity chairmen who worked ahead of schedule to get their news releases to me early so there would be no break in publicity during my recent jaunt to Japan.

Library Services for The Spanish Speaking

Servicios Bibliotecarios
Para La Raza Library Services to Spanish Speaking a federal project operating in San Mateo County, is in the process of establishing a bilingual outreach program by means of a bookmobile which will carry books, records and magazines in Spanish language in the Spanish speaking communities in San Mateo County, as well as offer Portuguese language library materials to a smaller Portuguese speaking coastal community.

The bookmobile, which will stop in San Bruno, Redwood City, Half Moon Bay and East Palo Alto, making regular stops in each city every three weeks after or before Spanish masses in local churches, after school classes, during business hours at selected commercial centers and in various residential areas.

THE BOOKMOBILE will provide a collection of books, records and magazines free of charge to individuals visiting the bookmobile during its stops. Moreover, the bookmobile will constitute an introduction to library services for Spanish speakers, and prove to be an extension of the local library's activities.

Salud Para la Gente Health for People

By Keevin Davis and Rosemarie Hernandez

The American people have been aware of the rising cost of health care and health care delivery in this country. In recent years, communities across the nation have been striving to find alternatives to stem this soaring cost. One of the more feasible alternatives are known as "Health Maintenance Organizations."

THROUGHOUT the country community groups are actively trying to form Health Maintenance Organizations. In Los Angeles, as well as Fresno and Bakersfield, there are groups forming.

Usually, after the initial meeting with the technical assistance team from HEW, they need a second explanation to fully understand the concepts and how to organize the program.

The HMO is not something which the Federal Government is going to form or run. It is a program that, in order to be successful, must be community generated, and it has to have intense community support.

You probably wonder what HMO is. There is no one in the country who can give you an exact definition. However, at this particular time, we have a definition that goes something like this: The HMO is an organization that delivers comprehensive quality medical care to a defined population at a pre-negotiated rate on a voluntary basis. It means that the community needs an organization to provide medical care to a defined population. "Defined population" is groups the HMO will service. "Pre-negotiated rate" would be the set number of dollars the members would pay every month or every quarter.

The elements needed for an HMO are the following: A hospital to back it up and a clinic or clinics; a reasonable number of subscribers; and doctors to work with it.

YOU ALSO NEED intense community support, both from the residents and doctors, and good contracts to hold these components together. Everybody has to work together, no one is more important than anyone else. What is more important? The hospital, the doctors, or the patients? All of them are!

Even though people claim to be happy with the medical insurance they now have, they complain about not going up, not being able to see their doctor when they want to and having to look for a clinic for service. HMO is not an insurance service like Blue Cross. If you belong to an HMO, you have the advantage of getting service 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It is a partnership with the doctors and the hospitals you contract with.

Good morning, good cooks.

When Thanksgiving is here, can Christmas be far away? Well, about one month, and that means it's not too soon to start working on your dinner plan to have this to take to share during the holidays.

Being a dedicated recipe collector I had cut out this first recipe and kept it in my fruitcake folder for some time. Last year I decided to try it and I'm glad I did, for it's very good. Developed by the makers of Karo syrup, it's quite easy to make and is an attractive cake.

STAINED GLASS WINDOW FRUIT CAKE

1½ pounds pitted dates
1 pound candied pineapple chunks
1 pound candied cherries
2 pounds walnuts or pecan halves
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
4 eggs, beaten
½ cup Dark Corn Syrup
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup corn oil

Grease a 10x8-inch tube cake pan; line with greased paper. Mix the one and one-half pounds dates, one pound each candied pineapple chunks and cherries and two pounds nuts. Sift the two cups sifted flour, two teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Mix the four beaten eggs, one-half cup Dark Corn Syrup, one-fourth cup each brown sugar and oil. Gradually beat dry ingredients into the egg-syrup-sugar mixture. Pour over the fruit mixture and mix well. Pour into prepared pan. Bake in 275-degree oven about two hours and fifteen minutes. Cool in pan. May be baked in 2 (9x5x3-inch) loaf pans.

Digesting through my recipes for Christmas recipes I found this fruit cake that doesn't call for candied fruits. This cake is easy to make and quite delicious.

POORMAN'S FRUIT CAKE

2 cups water
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups raisins
2 cups chopped nuts
2 squares chocolate, grated
2 jiggers whisky
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon each, mace, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves

In heavy saucepan combine the two cups each: water, sugar, raisins, chopped nuts, two tablespoons shortening and two squares chocolate, grated. Bring to boil and allow to boil for 5 minutes stirring. Remove from heat and cool. Add the two jiggers whisky. Sift together three times the three cups flour and one teaspoon each soda, mace, cinnamon and cloves. Add to boiled mixture and bake in tube pan that has been greased and lined with brown paper which has been greased also. Bake in 300-degree oven one and one-half hours. Cool before removing from pan. Wrap and store.

The mayor angrily banged an ashtray on his desk and shouted to his councilmen and city staff to "shut-up — let's get this over with!" Department heads called for "order" and the secretary kept asking firmly, "Just what is the motion?"

Pacifica's annual mock city council meeting — held Nov. 14 as the climax to the Youth in Government Day was livelier than a real City Council in Pacifica. However, when it came to grappling with the problems of government, the students found they were butting into the same kind of problems councilmen experience on the second and fourth Mondays of every month.

Under the guidance of Mayor Matt Kelley, the mock council voted down by a 3-2 margin a resolution that only 15 per cent of the remaining undeveloped land in Pacifica be developed in the future.

The resolution had replaced one discarded in committee that morning to limit growth to 500 dwelling units.

In addition, they voted 5-0 that any plans for development be submitted to the Planning Commission no later than July 1 of the year.

The student council — seniors from Nova and Oceana High Schools — found it more difficult to settle on a policy on campaign contributions.

They were able to reach a unanimous agreement on limiting campaign expenditures to 15 cents per registered voter. Pacifica has 14,779 registered voters.

After a good deal of arguing, they voted 5-0 that no person or organized group — excluding the candidate — be allowed to contribute more than $50 for the financing of any campaign.

They approved 3-2 a measure for the district attorney to review all campaign statements, and if needed, bring criminal actions against violators of the ordinance — then voted to reconsider, and to defeat the proposal by 4-1.

At this point, a motion was made to adjourn the meeting, and over the vehement protests of the mayor, who wanted to complete the resolution, voted 3-2 to adjourn. The motion to adjourn appeared to have been made by the student press representative.

Not acted upon was a proposal by City Atty. Mike Phillips for a board, to represent the various city neighborhoods, which would meet during the month preceding a campaign, to regulate campaign spending.

During lunch, held in conjunction with the meeting of the sponsoring Pacifica Rotary Club held at Nick's Rockaway, the students, their counterpart city officials and the Rotarians, heard Charles Gould, editor

Youth Take Over Pacifica--For a Day of the San Francisco Examiner.

Gould compared the world he was born in in 1910 with the world of today and told students that no generation has had it as good as the present youth. He had no patience, he stressed, with the "prophets of despair" who claimed the world was facing ruin.

"Today America's cities were experiencing problems with horse traffic far more severe than current automobile traffic, with deafening noise from wagons clanging over cobblestones, traffic jams, streets swarming with flies from manure causing 20,000 deaths in New York

Parenthood Begins Fund Raising Drive

A fund raising drive to raise $200,000 in 1973 is being conducted by Planned Parenthood, San Mateo County.

More than 20 volunteers are serving on the fund-raising committee co-chaired by board members Ruth Stinson and William Miller of American Savings and Loan, San Mateo.

This first phase of the drive is directed to a select and limited number of major gift prospects, current parents who are being asked to pledge $1,000 per year over three years. The second phase will include a special solicitation of foundations and business offices in the county.

More than 22,000 patients were served at Planned Parenthood, San Mateo County, in 1972. The patient load in 1973 is expected to exceed 30,000, with the increasing demand for services coming with the uncertainty of HEW programs in 1974 prompting the decision to launch a major fund raising effort with the emphasis on personal solicitation.

An attempt to broaden support too should be started this month with a first mailing to more than 12,000 homeowners in the county. The direct mail campaign is targeted to reach a total of 40,000 residents by Spring of 1974.

Financial support from the community, the private sector, is the single most important resource we have," said Mrs. Stinson. "Unless the public helps us to expand our support base and upgrade our level of giving we can not hope to achieve our goals and continue to provide first class health services."

Miller, expressed the businessman's point of view stating that foundations, corporate and business officers require substantial proof of community support before committing themselves to long range special projects.

From the best books come bits for Thanksgiving thinking.

From the Bible flow these words for thought: Sing unto the Lord with Thanksgiving; Sing praise unto the harp unto our God; Who covereth the heavens with clouds; Who prepareth rain for the earth; Who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains. And herb for the use of man; He giveth the bread of his food; And to the raven which cry; Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem; Praise thy God, O Zion.

From Hal Borland emerge words for perspective: You become part of this world reduced, in November, to elemental patterns. What is more fundamental than a tall maple, its leaves all shed, silhouetted against the stars? Or a clump of cedar dark on the hillside, rooted among the rocks and pointing slim, dark fingers toward the remote fires of infinity? What is more simple than the earth beneath your feet, the slow flow of the river, the patterns of the stars, the darkness itself?

You turn toward home, alone with the November night, a part of it yourself. And you know that the enduring mysteries are the greatest secret of all time — accept them and build dreams and poems upon them.

From John Greenleaf Whittier come lines to show Thanksgiving as a happy day for Americans:

Ah! On Thanksgiving day, when from East and from West,

From North and South, come to the pilgrim and guest. When the gray-haired New Englander sees around his board

The old broken links of affection restored. When the care-worned man seeks his mother once more,

And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled before.

What moistens the lip and what brightens the eye. What calls back the past, like the rich pumpkin pie?

There are words from Robert Bridges that hold that Thanksgiving is a holiday for peaceful men and peaceful times.

Give thee thanks, O Lord. Not for the armed legions, marching in their might, Not for the glory of the well-fought fight.

Where brave men slay their brothers also brave; But for the millions of Thy sons who work — And do The task with joy, — and never shrink.

And deem the idle man a burdened slave;

For these, O Lord, our thanks!

From Jay Jacobs writing in "Gourmet" magazine comes the reminder that Thanksgiving is a day for "access to the dining room," a time for "a feast one might well expect when America's only native feast is celebrated."

Such a feast is outlined in "Gourmet's" menu for the month.

Crudites Rabbit Pate with California Zinfandel Consommé Clair Roast Turkey with Chestnut and sausage stuffing and Napa Cabernet Sauvignon Cranberry Jelly Spoon Bread Soufflé Buttered Green Beans Parched Corn in Cream Latticed Apple and Cranberry Tart with New York State Champagne Pie

Redevelopment Cuts Help Hospital Addition Seen

will hopefully be minimal," Kyrakis said.

One resident of the neighborhood adjacent to the BART station, Albert Jenkins, did not agree with the council's indicated action on the issue.

He warned the area is made up of 50 per cent renters "and they will come up on the short end of this matter."

Jenkins, a vociferous proponent of redevelopment in the older section of Daly City, said the city must take "a strong stand in development of this area."

If the city fails to place strict adherence to the general plan and building codes, there will be "a scramble for properties."

Such a situation by developers could result in hulking skeletal building up of the area, Jenkins feared.

Under redevelopment law, renters and property owners-residents are given relocation allowances, plus a "fair market price" for their homes.

The city must open its books to appraisers and the public as a guide for basing this price.

Also, the law calls for assistance in relocating families.

Private development often offers such assistance, relocation allowances, or other legal protections. It was explained.

Jenkins, in one of his hardest slaps at the ODCPA leadership, said: "These people (ODCPA) are offering residents a 'pie in the sky' — a pie that doesn't exist."

But Kyrakis said based on his experience on the council during the past 18 months, and listening to the people of the area voice their dissatisfaction on this matter, "I feel certain they do not want the complexion of the area changed."

Certain safeguards concerning development in the area "must naturally be afforded residents there," Lyrett said.

The sole opponent to redevelopment in the past was Mayor Giannina, himself a property owner in the BART station area.

Giannina, after listening to more than an hour of public comment, said he was "glad you have decided to deal only with the commercial areas."

"It wasn't easy sitting up there, not liking redevelopment to start with, and having everyone take potshots at you. But I can 'buy' redevelopment of Mission Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard, something I just couldn't do in the residential area," he said.

Plans for a $25 million seven story addition to Mary's Help Hospital were presented to the Daly City Council Monday night at a public session.

Architect Dean L. Folker said the new structure, to be built on recently acquired properties adjacent to the present structure, will be used as a professional building housing doctors, pharmacies and related medical facilities.

Folker said he hopes to begin the project within four months, with completion date slated for spring of 1975.

Already, some 50 physicians have indicated they would desire occupying the proposed building when it opens.

The area is now zoned R-4, and it will be necessary to apply for a use permit and an Environmental Impact Report, a City Hall spokesman said.

Total square footage of the building will be some 53,000 square feet, Folker said.

Parking for 218 cars will be on three terraced levels with access to the building from the north side, plans indicate.

San Fernando Way will be widened some 10 feet to accommodate increased traffic in the area.

Still pending is deedling of a 10-foot strip to the city by the Lutheran Church, adjacent to the proposed medical building.

The city has already expressed concern over traffic flow in the neighborhood and officials indicated the intent is to widen the roadway.

employer, almost always an attorney, returns, and says they can keep the money after 60 days.

"I three must put up 'good faith money.' And the victim is allowed to hold the envelope."

One victim, after putting up her money ($10,000) went home and decided to check the contents of the sealed envelope.

"I cut open the paper."

Another scheme is the "piggy bank" fraud.

In this case a person is usually asked, by telephone, to cooperate with Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in apprehending a dishonest bank employee.

Already, some 50 physicians have indicated they would desire occupying the proposed building when it opens.

The area is now zoned R-4, and it will be necessary to apply for a use permit and money from the bank another "agent" visits her at home.

"Naturally, the 'agent' must have the money to his office to check it out to insure everything is proper," Bastedo related.

At Christmas, one of the most successful frauds is the "I-can-get-it-for-you" swindle. Police Chief Bastedo said.

Here's how this latest innovation works:

A person calls a teller him (or her) that they discovered a surplus of, say, ten dollars.

Another scheme is the "piggy bank" fraud.

In this case a person is usually asked, by telephone, to cooperate with Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in apprehending a dishonest bank employee.

The only catch is the caller can only sell all ten sets. But the good news is he can sell them for only $100 each.

The "piggy" rounds up nine of his friends and hurries over to meet "Mike" or

DC Reacts to Program Cuts

Immediate reaction to the Daly City City Council's indication Monday that they would drop all redevelopment in the city's residential areas showed a widespread difference of opinion on the issue.

Conrad Pavella, chairman of the Original Daly City Protective Association and a longtime opponent of redevelopment said he was not satisfied with the change.

"We have no assurances that City Hall will not sometime in the future dip into the residential area," Pavella said.

He had hoped for complete abolishment of the council's move.

Asked why he did not fully concur in the ODCPA's contention, he said: "Denton, the latter's suggestion that Mission Street be redeveloped into a European type shopping area, Pavella called Denton "an unrealistic man" and reiterated his mistrust of the city.

Vince Merlo, president of the Mission Merchants Association, whose survey sparked the support needed to convince the council of altering its previous stand on the issue, said the news was "most satisfying."

"Something has to be done on our street. Our survey was representative of how most merchants feel, and I support the move," Merlo said.

Restaurateur Frank Spadarella, president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce and a property owner along Junipero Serra Blvd., said he was "very disappointed."

Spadarella called the council's move "politically expedient" and said he continues to feel total redevelopment in the area is needed.

"I strongly feel the city should have kept going with redevelopment," he said. "I think they should not have changed course."

"I'm optimistic that we will come up with additional funding soon through cooperation (with BART)," Rowe said.

There is, however, only one long range solution to

BART Parking

and other street improvements, Rowe said.

Meanwhile, BART's four member Administration Committee deferred the matter of parking charges at all stations until more study has been made.

Bernard said he "hoped the spirit of previous cooperation with Daly City continues into the future."

And he added that both Daly City and BART are now searching for additional parking space around the terminus station, perhaps across the Junipero Serra Freeway in San Francisco.

If two lots now under consideration are obtained by BART and or Daly City it will increase the parking capacity by some 400 spaces.

"I'm optimistic that we will come up with additional funding soon through cooperation (with BART)," Rowe said.

There is, however, only one long range solution to the problem of easing the traffic tangle in Daly City, Rowe feels.

"Good quality feeder buses must be obtained to induce people to leave their cars at home and ride to (BART) stations," he said.

Traffic signals in the BART area have been changed to provide a better flow during heavy commute hours.

CSM to Host Aerospace Program

More than 300 elementary and high school teachers in San Mateo County will attend a "World of Satellites" program Nov. 29 sponsored by the College of San Mateo aeronautics department, in cooperation with the county schools office and the California Aerospace Education Association (CAEA).

The event, 9:11 a.m. will be held in Aragon High School's little theater in San Mateo and will feature Gary D. Moen of Oklahoma State University, a space science lecturer; and members of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

CSM instructor Kenneth Hubbard, coordinator for the program, said it is one of a series of informational offerings aimed at teachers in student student programs, to acquaint them with career opportunities in the aerospace field.

Working on arrangements with Hubbard are Earl Connolley, Aragon teacher and CAEA official, and Sally Patton, curriculum consultant in the county schools office.

Local Student Wins Award For Writing

Terry LaPorte, Skyline College's editor-in-chief of the Skyline Press, won the second place award in editorial writing at the Northern California Journalism Association of Community College's Conference, held at Sacramento City College, recently.

Also winning awards from the San Mateo Community College District were two College of San Mateo sports writers, Greg Sandin, who was a second place winner in sports action coverage writing, and Rick Kushman, an honorable mention awardee in sports feature-column writing.

LaPorte's honor came as the result of his article on the responsibilities of the press and its coverage. The committee that judges the report indicated, "Development of a timely topic makes this editorial good reading. Most noteworthy, this editorial turns the spotlight back — and correctly — to the responsibilities of working journalists."

The Skyline Press' editor was the sports editor during the 1972-1973 year. He is a 1972 graduate of Crestmoor High School, San Bruno, where he was editor-in-chief of The Crest and the paper's Most Valuable Staffer award winner. The advisor to the Crest is Leslie Lafayette.

foreman August Bacchi who said Miss Baird "knows her fittings and she's not scared of nothing."

Bacchi, an employee of Technical Construction Co. of South San Francisco, said there were four apprentices on the Daly City job and said Miss Baird was better than two of them.

Union officials claimed that Miss Baird, with the aid of her father, was attempting to violate rigid union rules which set competitive testing and a selection program for picking apprentices.

That's a big lie," Baird retorted when told of Hunter's remarks. Baird said his daughter was the victim of sex discrimination and threatened to sue the union.

"Tom Hunter doesn't want a girl in the union," the father said.

WATCHING NOTRE DAME having one of these great years of theirs, and perhaps establishing another dynasty, reminds us of a story once told to us by Margaret Walsh, wife of the late Frank "Bowie" Walsh, the sports promoter.

Bowie, as you know if you've read this column over the past decade or so, had a marvelously quick and crafty wit, was an outrageous punster of the old school. And it wasn't just an act for the public. His wit was never off, and some of his most outrageous material was ad libbed exclusively for his family.

One evening Mrs. Walsh was teaching her daughter, Loretta, how to prepare Chicken Cacciatore. Little Loretta, who is now married with children of her own, had never heard of Chicken Cacciatore and thought her mother was just making up a funny name. It was at that point that Bowie, knowing that something was cooking, strode into the kitchen.

"Daddy," said Loretta, "is there such a thing as Chicken Cacciatore?"

"Of course," said Bowie, without blinking an eye or losing a stride, "that's the nickname of a very big strong Italian boy named Joe Cacciatore who was given a football scholarship to Notre Dame, but when he got there and saw how hard Frank Leahy made his players hit each other, he decided to give up the scholarship and not go out for football."

"From that day on, he was known as Chicken Cacciatore."

STATISTICAL CORNER:

According to that complicated pro system for rating the effectiveness of passers, local boy Bob Lee is the second most effective passer in all of pro football, behind John Hadl.

One of the major factors considered in that system is percentage of interceptions thrown. As usual, Roman Gabriel is tops in that category with a 2.1, which means that only 2.1 per cent of his passes are intercepted. Lee is second with a 2.6.

We say "asusual" for Gabriel, because he has the career low for percentage of passes intercepted, 3.38. In 1969, he had a low of 1.75. That, however, isn't the best single season average. Bart Starr did better than that on two occasions: 1.19 in 1966, and 1.47 in 1964.

As you know, Kenny Stabler recently broke Sammy Baugh's record for completion percentage for a single game (20 or more attempts). Baugh's old standard had been 85.71 (18-21). But you may not know that Baugh also has the third highest completion percentage for a single game, as well. In 1945, just two weeks after he completed that record 18 of 21, he completed 20 of 24, for an 83.33.

CO-HOLDERS of the best record now behind Baugh and Stabler are John Brodie and Johnnie Unitas, who both once completed 17 of 20. Unitas in 1967, Brodie in 1968.

Another old record being threatened is Jim Brown's 1,063 yards gained in a single season. O. J. Simpson, of course, is the runner pursuing that one. But we wonder if

The team with the "no-names" has had a nice little today—Golden Gate Conference football champions while the team with the big name has a state record but little else.

After winning only one of three games during September, College of San Mateo, a football team recovered for a long year, while San Jose CC was waltzing into title favoritism with an unbeaten record and a star runner.

After beating San Jose 17-7 Saturday for the title, CSM is indeed in for a long year, the team pleased the majority. For the San Mateo season will now be extended up to three weeks—as long as the Bulldogs continue to win. CSM hosts Metropolitan Conference champion Los Angeles Pierce Friday night at 4:000-seat Chabot College in Hayward, the first round starts play-off games.

It's CSM's home game but college officials wisely decided against a Saturday afternoon game at the school's unlighted stadium because of TV and Big Game conflicts. They are surprisingly rejected Burlingame High's 5,000 capacity stadium because of a slightly higher rental cost than at Chabot.

Saturday, as usual, the name in the game was from the opposing team. And in this case it mattered little that Jaguar Marv was the lone name the first player in California's 30 history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season.

Stewart hurt CSM only once and caused the Jaguars more problems by losing two key fumbles under San Mateo defensive pressure in the mud and the bobbling the ball after recovering.

Marv and his buddy, Rudy Castellanos and Terra Nova's were just plain confusing as non-title contending teams wound up the North Peninsula League season Friday afternoon.

The Oceana Sharks won a 10-7 for the first time, then their highest finish ever, with a 28-4 victory over Jefferson. That victory left the Sharks with a 5-2 conference record and left Jefferson, a team that suffered crippling injuries a month ago, with the cellar.

South San Francisco lambed Hail Moon Bay 34-0, to wind up tied for third with the Sharks while Terra Nova and Serramonte slugged it out to a 7-7 tie.

Wide receiver Steve Broadway finally got his chance to show his stuff and the 64-pass-catcher caught eight for 164 yards and three touchdowns. The Indians' catches came from 50, 26 and 5 yards but the gutty Indians had played to a tough 74 score for nearly three full quarters. Depth, or the lack of it more exactly, finally caught up with the Indians in the final period as the Sharks added two quick scores.

CMS was actually out-gained by San Jose, 165 yards to 143. But the Bulldogs recovered five fumbles and only lost one themselves. And San Jose failed to complete a pass. Both teams ended the year scoring twice and quarterback Mario Limas made his only pass completion of the day good for a 26-yard touchdown to Tony DeMatteo as the Warriors, a conference pre-season favorite, dropped to third, their lowest finish smashing GGC defensive marks for rushing and total offense previously held by CSM. San Mateo earned a rushing yards per game (old 72.7) and an incredible 151.8 total offense allowed (old 193.3).

The tone of the game was set early when Stewart fumbled on the second play of the game, as heavy rain fell upon more than a thousand brave spectators. Mike Cozad recovered the bobble on the Jaguar 27. Steve LaPlante wound up kicking a 30-yard field goal for the lead CSM never relinquished.

Versatile Tim Mehan then almost single-handedly provided what proved to be the winning points. The Oklahoma transfer and former Sequoia great recovered San Jose's fumbled punt return attempt on the Jaguar 24.

On the first play Mehan took a pitch from quarterback Rudy Castellanos and fired a halfback style pass across the money to Rich Clarke at the 20-yard line. Clarke fell right over the flag for the lead.

Every score in the game was set up by a fumble recovery. CSM drove 30 yards for the clinching D.H. fourth fumble grab.

Chito Fonseca got good passing protection and lofted a nine-yard aerial to fullback Steve Myers, who was wide open at the goal line.

Early in the year Shaefer was concerned that "our inexperience would possibly hurt us," noting that he would be starting mostly freshmen. "I wasn't concerned with our ability but how quickly they could develop."

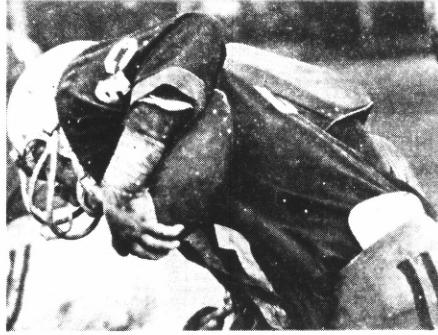

What they've developed is the third longest unbeaten string among the 55 large division colleges. Only 8-0

Fullerton and 9-1 defending state champ Fresno have longer streaks than CSM's seven-game streak. Fresno's string is eight games. It's the first outright GGC title for San Mateo, which shared the crown with Lane in 1971.

And after the planned victory Pierce 7-21 this week, CSM's extended season calls for a triumph over visiting Fresno next week to gain a Shrine Potato Bowl match with Fullerton in Bakersfield, Dec. 8.

Joyous and Healthful Thanksgiving to All

The ethnic joys of Thanksgiving are just around the corner, and people from around the world will join together to break bread and to give thanks for the priviledges of living in a great America. Because festive living and entertainment are always a part of this happy Holiday time, Bright Lights brings you the best of the Bay Area's high spots. A joyous and healthful Thanksgiving to one and all! Lloyd Johnson

Holiday Dining With

Ocean Background

If you are seeking a beautiful view of the Pacific Ocean to complement your Thanksgiving dining, we suggest Frank Torres' Beach restaurant in Montara, where Frank and Fannie Torres go to great lengths to make their guests happy. They provide some of the finest South American delicacies this side of Peru. A special Thanksgiving Turkey Dinner will be served from 11 a.m. and various meals for any member of the family. If you're planning a party, the banquet facilities accommodate from 50 to 200. Dancing every Friday and Saturday night. Vince Russo and his Distillers crew will take Thanksgiving Day off. The San Bruno restaurant will be shuttered for the Holiday, but look for the usual bustling crowds here the following Friday. Vince expects to debut his new Eggplant restaurant in Burlingame sometime in December. Attention, all Scots: If you have forgotten the recipe for Haggis, or that mouth-watering Scottish dessert, Trifle. Catherine McArthur and Marion Torrance, Scotty Campbell's two Scottish waitresses, will be happy to present you with a copy of the recipe while you dine at this Redwood City restaurant. Catherine and Marion were born in the small village of Thornliebank, located outside of Glasgow, Scotland. Thanksgiving dinner served from 4 p.m.

TASTE TELLS — The Down Under restaurant, on Taylor near Post in San Francisco, is famed for fine food and special drinks. Featured is the extra-smooth Suntory Royal Rob Roy. Co-owner Jim Somerville (left) and popular Bartender Maurice Langarica are admiring the handsome Suntory Royal decanter in which the Premium Reserve whisky is bottled.

Special Sunday Brunch Hungry Tiger Feature

Seeing is believing — and one of the greatest Sunday Brunches you'll ever enjoy is featured every Sunday (10 a.m. to 3 p.m.) at the Hungry Tiger restaurant in San Mateo. The big spread includes Eggs Benedict, Hangtown Fry, Steak and Eggs, Omelette Cardinaline, Fisherman's Platter, Crab New Orleans, hot chocolate mousse, plus fresh fruit from the "self" table and a free or two free champagne cocktails. Bring the little ones — there's a special children's menu. Every Thursday evening is the New England Clam Bake. Don't miss it — it starts at 8 p.m. The "by-reservation only" feast includes clam chowder, steamed clams, a whole Maine lobster, chicken, potatoes, corn-on-the-cob, and pitchers of beer. The Hungry Tiger will also be serving Thanksgiving dinners. By all means, make reservations — it's a must. Many features include a private parking devoid of meters and heavy traffic jams — Merely park your car, walk under the awning and you're in the place. Then you better be prepared for one of the finest Italian luncheons or dinners you've ever experienced prepared and served in royal fashion. Any wonder Bruno's is the nerve center dining spot in the Mission? ... Now through December 31, take-out customers at Tanforan Park's Steaks Unique can enjoy a special bonus of 1,000 Blue Chip Stamps. Call the restaurant's "hot line" and order the Giant Platter of fried chicken. A special bonus of Blue Chip Stamps is given with each order to go. ... Jack Kukas, general manager of Tanforan Park's nine Garden Restaurants, reiterates that the huge dining complex will not be open Thanksgiving Day. However, the restaurants are open on special Holiday hours, which will be in effect through December 22. Holiday shoppers have an excellent choice of menus and prices to enjoy while taking a break from the hustle and bustle of gift buying.

Dine at Nick's for Real Holiday Living

Plan your Thanksgiving dinner at Nick's or The Moonraker in Rockaway Beach. You will find not only a very selective menu, moderately-priced, but an ocean view that is memory lingering. Dining here is real Holiday living. Captain Charles restaurant will not be open Thanksgiving Day — both brasserie and trattoria. Holiday Inn will be served on Thanksgiving Day at Marine World's Holiday Inn. General Manager Joe De Dio and his chefs are preparing special menus for the occasion. The dinner will be a buffet feast in the Gold Coast Room, served from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Holiday's chefs will also prepare turkeys, with all the trimmings, for families to enjoy at home. One call handles all the details. News from Bright Lights' good friend of many years, Wilbur Stump, who has been a pianobar entertainment feature in most of the best bistros in the area. You can now hear him and his popular stylings and songs Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at Neal's Pub, 2244 Westborough Square, San Francisco. Okay, Wilbur, Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant and the nextdoor Fish Depot will not be open on Thanksgiving Day. But look for a food-rush the following Friday. Rumor has it that dapper Vince Licata plans a Las Vegas trek. Have fun!

Stickney's Restaurants For Holiday Pastries

Time now to visit one of the Stickneys' restaurants and order your Holiday pastries. Pies, cakes, and all the bakery goodies that make your meal festive are Stickney's specials. Don't put off - get yours now! The Golden Gate restaurant and the Bayway Inn will be a festive place to dine on Thanksgiving Day. The moderately priced dinner will be served complete with service from 2 p.m. General Manager Eric Pedersen is expecting quite a crowd so reservations are advised.

The untiring courtesy of the friendly staff at Dimitrios Panopoulos' Le Bistro Rouge on Twenty-fifth Avenue sets the scene for a pleasurable meal on Thanksgiving Day. Service from 4 p.m. An added touch is the gypsy violin music of Arpad D'Zurko, known throughout the San Francisco Peninsula for his musical accomplishments. Incidentally, Arpad plays his violin renditions at tableside each evening. The opening of a bar, which as long been awaited here, is finally taking place. Besides enjoying your favorite meal with dinner before and after dinner cocktails may be ordered.

Charley Brown's, located at Redwood City's Municipal Marina, now offers dancing nights. Tuesdays through Saturdays, Currently presenting the dance sounds is The Whale.

"In reverence and humility," said George Mardikian, the remarkable host-owner of Omar Khayyam's restaurant in San Francisco, "we greet another Thanksgiving Day in this, the most wonderful country in the world." . . . this land of ours is still the beautiful land of liberty and the land of the free, and the land of opportunity." Armenian-born Mardikian, the celebrated author of the best-selling book "Song of America," emigrated to the United States some half a century ago, and has often been referred to as "The Great American Patriot."

At the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, the "Willow" dining room menu will feature a Thanksgiving Day dinner which should pack the newly-decorated room with Holiday celebrants. The full course meal, as well as the regular menu, will be served from 12 noon to 4:45 p.m. Before and after-dinner cocktails in the Club Seville.

Villa Chartier and The Lanai for Dinner

The traditional Early American Thanksgiving dinner will be served at the Villa Chartier again this year. The baked dinner of turkey, old-fashioned stuffing, giblet gravy, soup, salad, mince or pumpkin pie, as well as several other Holiday entrees, will be served from noon. It's always a good idea to make reservations here. But if you have any waiting period for a table, there's a cozy cocktail lounge for pre-dinner drinks, and lounge chairs around a fireplace with burning logs. For exotic foods of the Indies, the Orient and Hawaii, and tropical drinks, all served in the relaxed and reflecting atmosphere of its inside and outside areas, The Lanai, located next door to the Villa Chartier, Service from 4:45 p.m. The Marina's Place Pigalle restaurant is a copy of the square by the same name in the Monmarie section of Paris, France. Little red street lights in the restaurant give the atmosphere and feeling of the real Place Pigalle, which is surrounded by artists' colonies and restaurants and bars.

Complete dinners will be served Thanksgiving Day at the House of Troy from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. The Turkey Dinner will include soup, salad, dessert and coffee; the special Holiday Combination Plate will include turkey, prawns, roast beef, along with soup, salad, dessert and coffee.

Enjoy Early Dinner Plus Holiday Fizz Special

Some folks like to have an early meal on Holidays like Thanksgiving. Something inexpensive, yet in a pleasant restaurant setting. Ken's House of Pancakes in Millbrae and Menlo Park may be their cup of tea. As early as 7 a.m. and as late as 3 p.m., when they will close, you can take the family in for a hefty breakfast or lunch. The new Holiday menu will offer, not turkey, but "Fizz Special" - ham, bacon, sausage or broiled beef patties, eggs with Silver, Ranch or Green Pepper gravy. In Menlo Park's El Camino and Millbrae, Ken's also has a cozy cocktail lounge for your Holiday celebrating. Charles Nave is host manager for the new Lehr's Greenhouse restaurant in San Francisco is a perfect setting for festive Thanksgiving dining. The famous garden restaurant is filled with beautiful flowers, lush green plants and towering banana palm trees. Owner Murray Lehr will open the doors as 12 noon; roast turkey heads the special Holiday menu. Thanksgiving dinners will be served from 3:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Pine Brook Inn. Klaus Sander, co-owner and master chef says all the traditional Holiday favorites will be offered. Early reservations would be a good idea.

Holiday Inn, S.S.F. Stars Stuart Clay

Stuart Clay, who entertains in the Lancer Lounge at Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, has been held over for an extended engagement. This talented artist is a singer, musician, and humorist who has performed professionally since 1965. While much of his material encompasses the current popular ballads and soft rock dance numbers of today, he does some oldies, blues, and some of the more funnier original comedy routines. Join him for a variety of songs and fun, nightly, Tuesday through Saturday, from 9 p.m. The Royal Hall dining room will be the scene for festive dining on Thanksgiving Day. Dinners served from 1 p.m. and a special children's menu will also be offered.

Vic Scafari and John Griziano will close their Wood-lake Joe's on Thanksgiving Day. However, their Brentwood Lodge will be serving a special Holiday menu. Reservations are suggested. This is the final weekend to catch Steve Long and the Freedom Train at the Band Stand. The group will provide the sounds tonight and tomorrow night, and for the special after-hour shows.

THANKSGIVING • 1973

In reverence and humility, we greet another Thanksgiving Day in this, the most wonderful country in the world. Our beloved country, which has been torn by growing sense of public doubt. May we have the fortitude, desire, and intelligence to remind those who would foster a sense of negativity, that this land of ours is still the beautiful land of liberty and the land of the free, and the land of opportunity.

Let us retain our faith in our country and in our elected leaders, and give our children the strength and courage to carry on and preserve the American dream which remains the hope of the world. Let us in particular be thankful to our Presidents for the time they served that long and tragic war in Southeast Asia, and for having brought home our great heroes, the prisoners of war as he promised us, he would.

He who walks in God's light and trusts in His miracles, must turn his heart toward the reliance and warmth of God's love, no doubts, fears and unhappiness will disappear.

With great humility and gratitude

George Mardikian

Grodins eighteenth Northern California store opened in Serramonte with a ribbon cutting Thursday.

With its new expansion, Serramonte will have 105 stores covering approximately one million feet of building space.

The new store was designed by Gene Kawashima, Grodins staff designer and is completely contemporary in the use of chrome, glass, vinyl, plastic and dramatic lighting.

Mike Michaels, President of Grodins, stated, "This store has all the regular Grodins men's departments, including The Other Room, The Rama Head, clothing, sportswear, shoes, furnishings and formalwear rentals. While only new Serramonte will have an extensive selection of Levi's, it will also feature designer name suits and sport jackets. The right look will dominate our thinking more than price."

Mike Saylor, manager of Grodins Serramonte, was most recently the assistant manager of the firm's Stonestown store.

LOUIS RAIN
Marine Staff Sergeant Louis N. Rain, son of Edward Rain of 121 St. Francis Blvd., Daly City, has reported for duty at Marine Corps Air Station in New River, North Carolina.

S.S.F. Swimming Pool Loss Told

Trustees of the South San Francisco Unified School District agreed Monday to make slight modifications in the district swimming program in an effort to reduce the annual loss incurred by running the program.

Last year alone the district lost nearly $7,000 in operating both a recreational and instructional program. It is hoped that by cutting part of the program and increasing pool fees the loss can be cut by almost half.

Monday trustees voted to increase children's admission to recreational swimming on weekdays from 30 cents to 35 cents, and increase adult admission from 50 cents to $1. increase fees for adult lessons from $4.50 for eight lessons to $8. increase Summer lessons from $3.50 to $4 and life saving and advanced lessons from $5 to $5.50 per session. They also eliminated weekend recreational swimming and Spring lessons. Two weeks ago the district staff had recommended major cuts in the program, including the elimination of family night, weekend swimming, all adult lessons and the current use of the two district pools during the summer.

However, resident protest prompted the board to consider the staff to consider alternative program cuts. The board also voted that the city be asked to possibly take over recreational swimming.

Last night Associate Supt. Dr. Joseph Smith said the city would consider conducting the recreational part of the program, but told trustees that with the proposed modifications the district could handle the entire program.

In other action board members agreed to change the district policy of a one week parent-teacher conference every year to two weeks at Foxridge Elementary School.

Ruth Marks, a parent president, said card petitions signed by Foxridge parents and teachers who agreed that the one week conference left teachers fatigued and ill-prepared during the following day of instruction and left children restless and hungry.

The petitioners suggested that the conference be extended to two weeks, and that hot lunches be served to children and that noon supervision be provided during the conference week. The proposals were agreeable to the board.

At last night's meeting, Dr. McLaughlin defended the need for an additional staff member. He said now teachers are spending valuable time out of the classrooms in areas in which they are not qualified. A full-time curriculum specialist would not only put the teachers back in the classrooms, but help teachers with planning and program development.

Dr. McLaughlin told the trustees that if a specialist were hired he would reorganize the department of instruction. He said ideally he would assist the specialist in supervision of his duties.

Dr. McLaughlin echoed

McLaughlin's concern warning trustees: "We won't be able to continue the way we have (with planning development and evaluation of curriculum) if we don't get another person."

"I just can't see how one person can serve the 14 elementary schools," Dr. Neilson declared.

Associate Supt. Dr. Joseph Smith pointed out board members that the secondary education staff in the district has one more curriculum specialist that the elementary staff.

Challenging staff members was Herb Shuck, who presided over the Certified Employees Council, who told trustees a poll the GEC had conducted revealed only 23

S.S.F. Teachers Win Point With Board

It was more teachers vs. more administrators again Monday with the teachers, at least for a time, coming out on top.

After a lengthy debate the South San Francisco Unified School District staff and several representatives of teacher organizations, trustees by a unanimous vote refused to hire an elementary curriculum specialist asked by the staff.

The trustees recommended that the administration meet with the teacher groups to iron out disagreements then later bring the board another recommendation.

District Supt. Dr. Paul Neilson said that a specialist responsible for curriculum would be hired to help Assistant Superintendent of Instruction Dr. Jack McLaughlin plan and evaluate the elementary curriculum.

Specifically it was proposed that the new administrator visit classrooms to observe instructional techniques held in various conferences, with teachers and principals to help teachers analyze the effectiveness of classroom programs, assist in the evaluation of teachers, and assist in planning and conducting workshops among other duties.

Currently in the elementary schools teachers themselves perform many of these duties. Dr. McLaughlin said that the duties are performed that the duties are performed.

At last night's meeting, Dr. McLaughlin defended the need for an additional staff member. He said now teachers are spending valuable time out of the classrooms in areas in which they are not qualified. A full-time curriculum specialist would not only put the teachers back in the classrooms, but help teachers with planning and program development.

Associate Supt. Dr. Joseph Smith pointed out board members that the secondary education staff in the district has one more curriculum specialist than the elementary staff.

Challenging staff members was Herb Shuck, who presided over the Certified Employees Council, who told trustees a poll the GEC had conducted revealed only 23 elementary teachers out of 273 favored the hiring of a curriculum specialist.

"I think the board members should talk to some of these teachers and see how they feel about this. They don't seem to want this specialist," he said.

"Adding a specialist will not help in the classrooms.
